Alpha Beta Alpha

J. Osterstock, secretary, informs ABA members of the business of the previous meeting.

Rho Chapter of Alpha Beta Alpha, National Library Fraternity, was installed on the Kutztown campus on November 20. During the candlelight ceremony six Library Science faculty members and twenty-two students from the junior and senior classes were initiated. Installing the Chapter were the National President of ABA, Marilyn Mellot, a student at Millersville State Teachers College, and the officers of Kappa Chapter on that campus.

Following the ceremony, a Book Week dinner was sponsored by Rho Chapter and the Junior Library Club. Dr. C. Duncan Yetman, of the college English Department, addressed the group on the subject, "The Helpful Goblin."

Many Library Science graduates informed of the new national affiliation took advantage of their opportunity to become alumni members of Rho Chapter, some sixty-eight of them acquiring membership.

Alpha Beta Alpha began nationally on May 3, 1950, on the campus of Northwestern State College of Louisiana in Natchitoches, Louisiana. This is the first national, co-educational, undergraduate Library Science fraternity. The group now has seventeen chapters on college campuses throughout the country.

In its first year, representatives of Rho Chapter attended the Pennsylvania School Library Conference at the State Teachers College in Clarion. This spring the Chapter pledged the freshman and sophomore Library Science students. These students will be initiated during Book Week of next year.

RWCA

RWCA members plan an activity for the girls.

Resident Women's Cooperative Association is the name of an organization synonymous with many duties—serving as the voice of the resident women of the college—obtaining new refreshment machines for the basement—planning an evening of entertainment for the women—or just maintaining serenity in the dormitory. The activities of this group are many, and the responsibility great.

This was not always true of the women's governing body. The earliest form of resident women's council was the Women's Student Government Association, formed in the fall of 1920 with an organization similar to that of the present one. This group, advised by the dean of women and another female faculty member, dealt with dormitory problems. The group has been reorganized several times, and today the RWCA is concerned with many more things than dormitory and citizenship problems.

Along with their adviser, Miss Mary E. Rickenbach, Dean of Women, the Council has planned various activities for the pleasure and enjoyment of the women. A Christmas "PJ" party was enjoyed in the Blue Room before Christmas vacation. Everyone enjoyed meeting Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus—alias Delia-Ann Thornley and Lorraine Kovelesky. This spring a spot of glamour touched the KSTC campus as the RWCA sponsored the annual Hess Brothers fashion show as the Women's Assembly. How could anyone forget that color—"Poison Green?"

Resident men's association

J. Bishop presents a plaque to Dr. Liggitt, former Dean of Men, on behalf of the Resident Men.

Devoted to the best interests of the dormitory men, the Resident Men's Association, guided by President John Bishop and working closely with the Dean of Men, works diligently to make the dormitory a friendly, living example of cooperation.

Constantly striding forward, this organization sponsored the Men's Open House, the Thanksgiving Dance, which this year saw Art Castellucci named KSTC's "Mr. Esquire" of 1957, the men's luncheon and the men's assembly.

Villanova basketball coach "Al" Severence was the featured speaker at the '57 luncheon while hypnotist D. K. Ernst kept the men in a daze at the "No Women Allowed" assembly program.

As a bridge between the resident men of the college and the Dean of Men, the representatives of the organization, the Resident Men's Council, fill a prime need and provide an invaluable service to the dormitory men.

Commuters

"Did you get your car fixed?" "The road was so icy this morning!" "I didn't get here yesterday—too much snow." Such are samples of conversation overheard from the Kutztown Commuters—both men and women—during and after the February blizzard.

These men and women have their own governing organizations—the Commuting Women's League and the Collegiate Commuting Men's Club. These groups plan social gatherings and activities in order to bring the commuting students closer to KSTC.

Advised by Miss Mary E. Rickenbach, Dean of Women, the Commuting Women's League had a full program this year. The big-little sister party in the fall helped to orient the commuting Freshmen to college life. The members also enjoyed the Commuting Women's Luncheon. The big event of the year was their Annual Bazaar during which the women sold home-made sandwiches, salads, and desserts in order to gain money for the commuting rooms and other activities. The group's officers were Johanna Strollo, president; Violet Hixson, vice-president; Miriam Loose, secretary; and Bernice Gehman, treasurer.

Collegiate Commuting Men's Club has also had many enjoyable activities this year. Daniel Yakubecek, president; William Orr, vice-president; Dwight Jones, secretary; and Ronald Rhodes, treasurer, led the group each Friday at their meeting. Mr. John B. White, Dean of Men, advised the group.

Mr. Robert Gledhill spoke to the group on the guidance program and the need for guidance teachers. The members also attended the men's luncheon.

Youth leadership

In the first semester of their junior year, KSTC girls become eligible to take the Youth Leadership course offered under the guidance of Miss Eva Pletsch. This year's chairman of the group was Jo Ann Knowles with Virginia Blakely as secretary.

Interesting and useful programs were planned throughout the course. Miss Pletsch demonstrated the technique of having progressive games and also discussed preparation of different types of parties. The girls carried on the discussion at many of the meetings. Several other meetings were concerned with various youth organizations—the Camp-fire Girls, the Girl Scouts and the Brownie Scouts. Parliamentary procedure was the subject of another meeting. Christmas gave the girls a chance to sing their favorite carols. Practice-calling of square dancing brought the course to a close.

These girls can now feel a firmer confidence in undertaking such activities as they are called upon to supervise as teachers. They have learned the fundamentals of conducting a meeting, teaching a song, giving a party, and many other useful activities.

Student education association

F.T.A.? S.E.A.? The name's different, but the organization is the same. Effective in 1957 the Keystone Chapter of Future Teachers of America became the Keystone Chapter of Student National Education Association (SNEA or SEA). The new name distinguishes all the college chapters from the high school clubs which retain the title FTA, and show better the relationship of the chapter to the NEA. The Keystone Chapter received its charter January 9, 1952. Dr. William L. Fink was the founder. The membership for 1957-58 is 50.

One of the big SEA projects at KSTC is serving as guides to approximately twelve visiting high school groups yearly. Members conduct campus tours that show all sides of school and dormitory life.

Other activities for the year included the annual tea, dinner, and Christmas program; and monthly meetings which featured the most recent NEA films, student teacher paper discussions and other items of interest to members.

Diane (Ritzman) Lauther was president of the group until January when the Vice-President Renee Long took over the presidential duties. Other officers were Catherine Rieser, secretary and Jo Ann Knowles, treasurer. Dr. William L. Fink advises the group.

Bible study

In 1948, after several disappointing attempts, a group of students finally organized a new religious group. Meeting in the Grace Evangelical Congregational Church, in Kutztown under the pastorship of Reverend Ralph Borneman, it was called the Interdenominational Group, a name later changed to the Bible Study Group. The voluntary members of this group were those who desired to study the Holy Bible as the word of God. Since then the group has continued active and energetic meetings each Tuesday evening for a warm and thoughtful hour of spiritual guidance.

During the past year a varied program has been presented for the interest of the members. Musical programs, Bible talks, chalk talks, Bible quizzes, talent night, and an exchange program represent the activities for this year.

The highlight of the year was the annual Christmas dinner and party. With the theme, "Silent Night," the members of the Bible Study Group enjoyed a delicious turkey dinner. Following the dinner was the singing of the traditional Christmas carols and a Christman message by Reverend Ralph Borneman. Planning these programs were President, Eleanor Holt; Vice-President, Fay Mann; Secretary, Jean Smith with the aid of Reverend Carl C. Harlacker and the group's faculty adviser, Mr. John A. Pawling.

Through all its activities the Bible Study Group wishes to provide a meaningful spiritual experience which is helpful to each of its members in their daily lives.

Interfaith forum

R. Klova crowns A. Castellucci "Joe College."

Highlighting the Inter-Faith Forum program this year was Religion in Life Week—February 16-20. Many activities were planned for the week, but due to the blizzard, the All-College Tea was the only event that took place. On March 3, an All-College Luncheon took the place of the Religion in Life Week Dinner which was canceled. The speaker for this occasion was Dr. William E. Vickery, Director of the Commission of Educational Organizations of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Dr. Vickery's topic was "Moral and Spiritual Values in a Scientific Age."

At monthly meetings of the Forum during the 1957-1958 term, comparisons of world religions contributed to a deeper appreciation of social and cultural values. Through World University Service, KSTC students donated funds for the improvement of educational facilities for college learners in foreign countries. Sharing experiences meaningful to the entire student body and emphasizing values common to all religions are the aims of Inter-Faith Forum.

The working leaders of this group were Reed Maurer, president; Renee Long, vice-president; Nancy Zimmerman, secretary; and Patricia Conroy, treasurer. Until the second semester, Mrs. Mary E. Lewis and Mr. George D. Weiss advised the activity. Since the retirement of Mrs. Lewis at the end of the first semester, Mrs. Gladys Mathias and Mr. Weiss are now the advisers.

United student fellowship

Since the creation of the United Church of Christ, the United Student Fellowship brings together students of the Evangelical Congregational and the Evangelical and Reformed Churches for spiritual guidance. Planned programs stimulates Christian fellowship. Federal Judge Allan K. Grim discussed the pros and cons of integration with USF'ers and Dr. Charles Spotts, Professor of Religion at Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, supplied interesting, helpful, information on European seminars and summer work camps.

Through slides, films and discussions an understanding of the world's great religions was gained. Recreation to round out a year of wholesome Christian association included a hymn sing, fun night, and an all college party.

Canterbury club

Canterbury Club is the campus organization of Episcopal students. It was founded on February 3, 1948, to give Episcopal students a chance at fellowship with others of their denomination. Dr. Grace Hesse has advised the group since its founding. The group is associated with Christ Episcopal Church in Reading and is affiliated with the National Canterbury Association.

Meetings are held once a month in the homes of various faculty members. Main interest of the group this year was centered around St. Barnabas, the new Episcopal mission, which was founded this year and holds Sunday services in the Kutztown Town Hall. Episcopal Archdeacon Dean T. Stevenson spoke to the club on the occasion of its founding. The Reverend Charles E. Sutton and the Reverend Adam S. Tannous of the Christ Episcopal Church in Reading have also given religious guidance to the group. The main social event of the year for the group was the evening of fun and games arranged by the club for all KSTC students and held in the College Blue Room. Mary Matthews, president, and Penny Johnson, secretary-treasurer, kept the club moving along this year and helped it give the Episcopalian students religious inspiration and fellowship.

Newman club

Newmanites enjoy a song.

Newman Club, a Catholic religious organization, has been functioning at KSTC for the past eleven years. The Reverend Father John Fox, pastor at St. Mary's R.C. Church, serves as spiritual adviser to the club which meets every second and fourth Tuesday of the month.

Meetings are divided into three categories: religious, educational, and social. Panel discussions and talks are the highlights of the religious phase. Student members play an important role in discussions of faith.

The educational meetings usually include a guest speaker who is an authority in his field. This year, Newman Club was honored to have as guest speakers, The Reverend Fathers Richard Loeper and Edward Strassner, both of Central Catholic High School in Allentown. Father Loeper discussed and summarized the Book of Genesis. An interesting talk on human love was presented by Father Strassner.

Parties, dances, and entertainment comprised the last phase, that of social activity. On St. Patrick's Day, Newman sponsored a party and dance in the Blue Room.

President Ronald Horvath is ably assisted by Raymond Ely, vice-president; Patricia Conroy, recording secretary; Josephine Zondlo, corresponding secretary; and Julia Zondlo, treasurer. These officers and other members of the group attended regional conventions held at St. Catherine of Sienna R. C. Church in Allentown.

Lutheran students association

Marjorie Rienecker, president; Joan Zachar, vice-president; John Ziegler, secretary; and Reed Maurer, treasurer, make up the list of able leaders of the Lutheran Students Association. The Reverend Carlton L. Heckman, pastor of the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church of Kutztown, gives the group guidance.

Always an active group, LSA made this year no exception. The year was kicked off with a get-acquainted party. A few of the members attended an LSA Conference at Muhlenberg College.

Hallowe'en and Valentine parties and a spring spaghetti dinner headed the list of LSA social events. The group also sponsored a gay square dance in March with the Reverend Bruce Hatt as caller.

Speakers for the year were the Reverend Clyde I. Fry from Reading, who brought the Christmas message; the Reverend Rufus Kern, who spoke at Easter time; and the Reverend George Ziegler from Limerick. Mr. Roy W. Hamme of the college science department spoke on "Religion and Science."

The Club members found religious guidance at LSA and also good fellowship.

Sports

The "Wonderful World of Sport" reaches with open arms to pamper athletic competition on all levels. Its intricate web, like that of a spider, spins its way into every nook and corner of every city and hamlet.

No one has been able to say what sport is but life would hardly be the same without it.

Vacant lots and crowded city streets teaming with activity echo with sounds and glow from sign of sport.

Anguished whimpers of defeat, pagan cries of victory, trip-hammer hearts in tense moments.

Youngsters stooped in concentration over the stick inscribed circle filled with tiny marbles.

Skinned knees, a torn shirt, a trickle of blood from a red nose that failed to see that clumsily thrown right hook.

The tiny tot who doesn't quite belong, standing on the sidelines, envying the "big boys."

Crash!—broken glass, trampled flowers, forgotten supper.

In its intimacy sport leaves a mark on all it touches. The splendid sinewy athlete, a picture of grace and strength will long cherish memories of his athletic laurels.

The fourth-stringer whose biggest moment was a brief stint in a game, long before, won or lost, will undoubtedly convince his grandchildren—and perhaps himself—of his athletic immortality.

The would-be athlete who drowned his frustration by becoming sports editor of the school paper or the football manager, will find permanent satisfaction in having been, even so small, a part of this glamorous world.

The little lady in bobby sox, and an aged raccoon coat carrying a battered pennant, will scream and shout for "her" team. In time of victory her laughter will be boundless. In defeat her body will rack with heartbreak as a salty tear finds its way down a flushed cheek.

Football

Against the Aggies, coached by former pro star Pete Pihos, the Avalanche fell victim to the passing of Bob Rush and 105 yards in penalties, 60 for illegal substitutions. Veteran back Castellucci, always a thorn in the Aggie side, tallied both Maroon TD's on sprints of 18 and seven yards.

Coach Patton's charges spent the second half of the Shippensburg clash deep in enemy territory but could not score. The Skippers tallied twice in the first half and hung on for the win that assured them of the conference championship.

The Avalanche added a bit of black ink to their won-lost ledger, stopping Montclair Teachers in a game more lop-sided than the 14-7 score would indicate. Ilchuck led the local eleven with 70 yards on the ground and three pass interceptions and was on the receiving end of a key 17 yard Steidle aerial.

On defense the Maroon was superb, holding their hosts to one first half first down, one yard gained on the ground in the second period, and a meager 32 yard ground total for the afternoon.

Avalanche gridders topped a gala KSTC homecoming celebration by twice coming from behind for a 14-14 deadlock with highly favored East Stroudsburg.

Like a see-saw, Golden Avalanche football fortunes rise and fall.

Star-gazing fans searching the horizon for an evasive Pennsylvania Teachers Conference crown for the locals were again disappointed with a 3-4-1 record.

Disillusion came early when a cocky KSTC squad and three busloads of students made the long trip to Kings College only to see the Maroon offense spit, sputter, and die, as the host Kingsmen waltzed to a 6-0 victory. But the air of optimism returned a week later and "hung around" long enough for the Avalanche to soundly trounce Cheyney (25-6) and Millersville (19-7). Big guns in the local attack were field general Bob Steidle and halfbacks Art Castellucci and Emil Ilchuck. Steidle's pin-point passing against Cheyney and Ilchuck's 72 yards on 10 carries against Millersville told the tale of KSTC triumph.

In the two games, the Avalanche rolled up 27 first downs and 705 yards while holding their outclassed opponents to 10 first downs and only 330 yards. Even the KSTC defense chipped in with a score as guard Reed Maurer picked up the first TD of his career on a freak lateral play. Quarterback Steidle tossed to end Charlie Berry who lateralled to guard Tom Check who lateralled to Maurer who scampered the final 20 yards for the score.

The famine began—three successive gridiron efforts ended in disaster as the Patton-coached Avalanche fell before mighty Juniata College (46-0), the National Aggies (27-12), and Shippensburg Teachers (13-0).

The Juniata mismatch was scheduled when the flu bug hit the Trenton STC grid squad and forced cancellation of the Avalanche-Lion clash. Rather than suffer from inactivity the flu-weakened Maroon substituted for another flu victim, as Juniata's homecoming foe.

Senior halfback Castellucci closed his career scoring both touchdowns in the local's finest team effort of the season. In addition to Castellucci, senior ends Charlie Berry and Keith Newhard, tackle Bob Klova, and managers Buck Reinert and Tom Boylan will be lost to the Avalanche through graduation.

At the annual post -season banquet Art Castellucci received the "Runyon Award" as the most valuable senior; guard Tom Check was named most valuable player; Bob Steidle most improved player, and John Santos as most promising freshman.

Season statistics reveal that the Avalanche gained 1,695 yards including 1,250 rushing and 445 passing; while their opponents picked up 1,620 yards, 1182 on the ground and 438 via the air lanes. Castellucci led the Maroon in total offense with 371 yards (303 rushing); Steidle, the club's leading passer was second with 371 yards, all but one through the air, and Ilchuck third with 299 yards, all on the ground.

Tau Kappa

The ultimate goal for the participant in women's athletics at Kutztown is membership in the honorary sports sorority—Tau Kappa, Alpha Chapter.

All sport, club, and athletic organizations award a specific number of points to the girls who take active parts in their programs. Previously, membership was determined at 1000 points and a cumulative quality point of 1.00. The program now pledges girls at 750 points and allows two semesters for them to earn the additional 250 points and maintain the 1.00 quality point for full fledged membership in the sorority.

This year, Ruth Karper, president and Molly Leidich, vice-president, accepted the following girls as Tau Kappa pledges: Jane Young, Dorothy Clauser, Virginia Conn, Kaye Boley, Marcia Garland, Sally Fluck, Mary Matthews, and Gretchen Hoge.

In addition to their numerous sport activities throughout the year, members of Tau Kappa sponsor activities for the entire college to enjoy. Each Homecoming Day features a Reunion dinner for all the members of the Tau Kappa sorority. Christmas finds the girls busy at work collecting funds to brighten a needy family's Christmas Day. The sorority also sponsors blue-room parties which prove to be quite successful.

Miss Ruth E. Glassford, adviser to Tau Kappa, keeps the club active and interested in the promotion of better sports for better living.

WAA

The sports program offered for women of the college includes hockey, archery, life saving, swimming, volley ball, basketball, tennis, and softball. The entire sports year is planned, provided for, and presented by the Women's Athletic Council.

This year a new election system was instituted by the Council. Previously, managers of the respective sports were elected before each season. They are now voted on at the last meeting in May which enables them to serve for the next full school year.

Returning to school in September, the Women's Athletic Council found that their president, who had been elected in May, would not be with them. A popular vote was conducted and Ann Voeks, a junior art student, received the presidential position. In addition to Ann, the following members comprise the Council: Gretchen Hoge, vice-president; Jane Young, secretary-treasurer; Dorothy Clauser and Pat Boone, president and secretary respectively of Leaders Club, Eileen Williams, basketball manager; Virginia Conn, volleyball manager; Sally Fluck, tennis manager; Carol Sholly, freshman representative; and Miss Ruth E. Glassford, adviser.

Honor hockey

The fall season sports at college emprize football for the men and an equally vigorous game of field hockey for the women enthusiasts.

Every woman student is eligible to become a player on an Intra-mural or Honor Hockey team. The girls are chosen for the Honor Hockey team by tryouts for the individual positions. This year the team was composed of 14 girls who represented Kutztown intercollegiately at the annual Hockey playday. Playday was held at Cedar Crest College on November 9,1957, and due to the flu epidemic Cedar Crest and Kutztown were the only colleges which competed in the activities. Both teams played a hard fast game in the coldness of a November morning which ended in a 1-1 tie. The teams were then mixed for another game. This time the Kutztown forward line changed with the Cedar Crest forward line and a somewhat confused state of play existed for the first few minutes of action. The players soon found their bearings and a second exciting game was played. This contest also ended in a tie since both teams seemed to be of equal strength. Cedar Crest then served the team lunch which brought the 1957 Hockey Playday to a successful end.

Ann Volks, Hockey manager, organized and directed the intra-mural program this year. Competition was on an inter-class basis. The Freshman Class proved their strength by running off with first place honors.

Even though everyone can not win, the girls gain a good feeling of sportsmanship and a closeness of class co-operation through their participation in this popular fall activity.

Honor basketball

Up and in goes the ball! Another basket! This was the scene in the gym every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon for 12 weeks during girls intra-mural basketball. Eileen Williams, the basketball manager, did a splendid job of arranging teams and game schedules. The following team captains were chosen: seniors, Molly Leidich; junior I, Elaine Seidel; junior II, Dorothy Clauser; sophomore I, Mary Schnee; sophomore II, Faye Mann; sophomore III, Pat Boone; freshman I, Velda Hershey and Becky Stine; and freshmen II, Carole Sholly. Coming out on the top were the senior team and the freshmen I team, since both teams won all their games. High scorers for the season were: Carole Sholly, 48; Nancy Ruth, 40; Velda Hershey, 33; Carol Workman, 30; and Beverly Baston, 29. Incidentally, all the high scorers were freshmen except two. Carol Workman is a senior and Beverly Baston a sophomore.

Basketball is a very interesting game and we can say without a doubt, that basketball is the most popular sport with the co-eds at Kutztown.

Basketball

The 1957-58 edition of the Golden Avalanche cagers (6-11) waded through a season highlighted by comebacks but marred by disastrous opening periods.

After splitting their first two outings, dropping Bloomsburg 80-77 and falling to Kings College 98-80, the Avalanche stopped Trenton 82-77 in overtime before striking a victory famine.

Against Shippensburg the locals trailed by 27 points after an unbelievable horrible first half, but rallied to within one point, 73-72, before losing in the final seconds 76-72.

The Raider setback was followed by losses to West Chester, 71-58, and Bloomsburg, 77-63, before the Avalanche won again 62-52 over Cheyney.

The Stroudsburg Warriors eked out a 79-77 overtime win, Millersville romped 77-64 and Kings gained their second, 78-41, as Avalanche fortunes struck their season low.

The Maroon stopped the National Aggies 78-62 but lost to Stroudsburg 71-67 and West Chester 61-53.

Trenton's Lions fell again 68-61 for the Avalanche's fifth win, only to have the locals drop two more to Shippensburg and Millersville, 80-50 and 87-73 respectively.

A final game 78-74 decision over Cheyney brought the season to a close on a bright note.

John Bishop, who led the team in total scoring, also turned in the top individual efforts with 24-point performances against Trenton and Cheyney in the season finale.

Outstanding performances by frosh Dick Powell, Arlan Burkert and Jerry Simcoe and the continued fine play of veterans Bishop, Keith Newhard and Bob Steinmetz points toward a brighter future for Avalanche cage fortune. Only Steinmetz and Newhard will be lost to coach Walt Risley through graduation.

MIAA

Fate was kind once again as the Men's Intramural Athletic Association, guided by president Gene Ditsky, enjoyed the most successful year of its history.

Third Hall, perennial king pin of the intramural sports scene saw its solitary reign as football champ end, as second hall up-ended the defending titlists, 6-0, for a share of the loop crown. The loss was first for the third hallers after a two-year nine-game win streak.

With football on the shelf, basketball took over the spotlight. Eight teams battled for season and play-off honors. Competition was sharp among the aptly-named "Has Beens," "Elbow Benders" and "Risley-Rejects." Sprawling bodies on a tile floor, puddles of water from a leaking roof, and out-landish costumes lent a colorful, sometimes chaotic atmosphere to the court action.

Sportnight saw excitement reign supreme as the coveted trophy returned to third hall after two years. The third hallers, led by Captain Al Greenawalt edged second hall, fourth hall, and the commuters for a second leg on the championship trophy.

Spring and baseball entered the scene hand in hand. Intramural athletes lay aside their books in favor of the bat and ball, heading for the diamond with cries of "kill the umpire" and choruses of "take me out to the ball game."

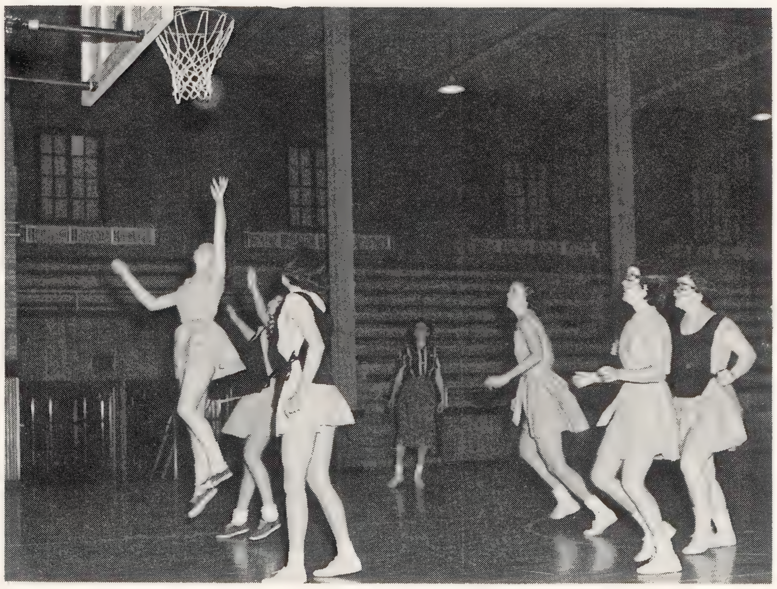
Leaders club



Leaders Club is one of the largest groups on campus. The club meets every Thursday night from 7:00 to 8:00. At the meetings the sport-in-season is covered through the learning of rules and regulations and actual participation in the sport. In addition to volleyball and basketball, the two major indoor sports for women, the members also enjoy swimming, tumbling, fencing, and golf.

The club sponsors various activities throughout the year. An old fashioned square dance featuring the Reverend Posie Scheirer as caller was held in the fall. In January the group was responsible for a successful record dance. These activities were in addition to the club's regular program of weekly co-ed games which are sponsored every Monday night in the gymnasium. A large group of the students take advantage of this integrated competition and many fast and interesting games of volleyball and ping-pong are fought to the very end each week.

The officers who made 1958 a memorable year in Leaders Club are: Dorothy Clauser, president; Diane Sherry, vice-president; and Patricia Boone, secretary. Miss Ruth E. Glassford is the adviser.

Out at first!

Baseball

The big bat of Coach Walter Risley's diamond warriors promised to make this "the year" for Kutztown in teachers conference baseball play.

Bridesmaids last season, when they compiled a 6-4 record and lost the conference crown in their last game, this year's Avalanche nine possessed the power to become a June bride and give KSTC a long sought after championship.

Big guns in the Avalanche attack were long-ball hitting captain Hank Adams, and outfielders Gene Kerschner and Bob Steidle who clubbed rival moundsmen at .375 and .395 clips during '57 play.

On the mound the Maroon featured veterans Gil Kocher and Mike Kostzewa and frosh standouts J. R. Miller and Terry Deck.

L. Hahn; S. Tarkington; A. Mather; M. Maryott cheer the team!

GOOD NEWS

Seniors

Pictured on the following pages are members of the graduating class, the class of '58. They are not, as a group, strikingly different from their many predecessors, nor are they likely to stand out from the classes which follow them.

In their conformity lies a supreme significance. Classmates, yes—but even more important—individuals, people who have acted out their lives in scenes that belie their smiling, starched-collar photographs. For here, somewhere, is the class clown, the college athlete, that certain "nicest" girl.

From the pictures we cannot identify the person who labored and sacrificed for an opportunity to appear here; we are unable to guess whose parents will feel the most pride and self-fulfillment when a certain page is turned.

When you scan these laughing, smiling eyes you see only the surface. Behind each face lurks a unique intensity of feeling . . . of thought . . . of life.

Behind these faces lie the untold dramas of the past . . . and the future.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS—First Row: J. Woodcock, Sec.; M. Ewing, Treas. Second Row: R. Gangewere, Pres.; C. Reinert, V. Pres.

Classmates:

During our four years here we have lived and grown as students; we have worked towards a college degree as a part of the younger generation. The degree is ours, and, in a certain sense, "We have arrived."

Do we, although academically prepared, possess the more intangible qualities successful teaching demands? The future alone can tell. Only time will determine the compatability of our personal philosophy with a life devoted to teaching. The years alone can record professional attitudes as they are consistently reflected inside and outside of the classroom.

Perhaps the most fundamental supposition we can make, as we leave, is that we are a part of all we have met here. Without our being aware of it, these four years have been silently and secretly traced within us. All is there, the friends we may never again meet, the buildings and campus some of us may never again see. Each has left an indelible imprint. A future meeting with a classmate, or visit to the college, will never quite recapture what we have lived here, for the eyes through which we see will be different.

Time, and the pressure of those behind us, forces us out again through the same revolving door. Now we must step into this business of living as students of a different type.

To you, my classmates, I wish success and happiness in the years ahead.

Senior Class President
